With all due respect, it is unconscionable that a an approach to a long festering problem would be proposed to be addressed at a last minute with absolutely no real effort for communication, consultation, or advice from the community, particularly those most impacted, the neighboring businessess which have been hammered by the pandemic. The Redwood Plaza is on life-support. The few viable other businesses should not bear the brunt for the whole of Sebastopol and West County.

How could it be possible to have a proposal floated the day before Thanksgiving and the City Council decide the following Tuesday. Preposterous.

Do not make this mistake.

Sincerely,

Bill Howley
