- Have the Climate Committee partner by contributing to other positive good within the city
- To leave our mark, literally with our name on sidewalk, thereby bringing more recognition to the group
- - what does the title 'Paint out Hate' have to do with any of this? mathew rose of the library when we met immediately recognized that discrimination was a part of climate challenges and shared appreciation for a contribution from us, after he received the submission he wrote in further appreciation that this was one of only 2 submissions that addressed climate change
