Murals

Murals add life, personality, interest to a town and building. We have plenty of big blank walls where one would be most fitting, but hardly any murals. Our current sign ordinance states that if products or services of a business are in the mural, it is counted as signage. This is discouraging to their creation. Murals are expensive to begin with and need to be maintained. If a business is going to spend $20,000 on a mural, they need to get some return on it.

One of the large blank walls in Sebastopol

The blank wall next to SREAMING MIMI'S should have a large picture of a ten year old girl with pigtails, licking a double decker Rocky Road ice cream. Not allowed.
